[REDACTED]

BACKGROUND:

Information was developed as early as 4/72 that VVAW planned to send delegation to Hanoi to contact North Vietnamese officials in an attempt to arrange release of prisoners of war. Immediately upon receipt of this information, we conducted extensive investigation to identify all members of delegation.

[REDACTED] We were successful in identifying all members of proposed delegation.

[REDACTED] However, prior to departure of delegation increased bombing of Hanoi apparently caused North Vietnamese to refuse receiving VVAW delegation at that time. Tampa has now developed information that VVAW delegation of three plans to leave Tampa, Florida, 10/2/72 for travel to Paris to contact North Vietnamese with return scheduled for 10/24/72. Selection of delegation has been made by Scott Camil, VVAW Florida leader.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR
(VVAW)

KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

b7D

The VVAW was founded in the spring of 1967 by six young Vietnam veterans in New York City. At the beginning of 1968, with 600 members, VVAW opened a national office, founded the first GI newspaper, "Vietnam GI", and sent close to 500 veterans into the McCarthy campaign to beat down the red baiters. After getting gassed at the Democratic convention at Chicago and caught in the general "down" of the peace movement, VVAW was nearly inactive until the moratoriums in the fall of 1969. Members of VVAW led student strikes on major campuses across the country and battled Veterans Administration Hospital authorities over threats to throw amputee Vietnam veterans out for signing anti-war petitions. At present, membership of the VVAW, nationally, consists of 8,500 members.

She stated she did not know any of their names by name.

_____ were members of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) who had been living together, but had now decided to go their separate ways.

On 9/14/72 _____ also known as _____ _____ was interviewed regarding his VVAW activities. During the course of this interview _____ mentioned that the local VVAW Chapter had been doing absolutely nothing and to the best of his knowledge had no plans to support any VVAW activities.

On 9/22/72, SA _____ using a suitable pretext contacted the WDC residence of _____. A woman, identifying herself as _____ advised the VVAW group _____ at _____ had disbanded. She advised _____ the others scattered all around. She stated _____ mentioned that he had become very disinterested in the running of the VVAW and was no longer interested in the VVAW organization. She stated to the best of her knowledge _____ had had been living on 19th Street left on friendly terms, but had just decided they were no longer interested in VVAW.

Inasmuch as WFO investigation has determined that the DC Chapter, VVAW has for all practical purposes disbanded, this case is being placed in a closed status.

Future communications of VVAW activity in the DC area will be handled under the regular VVAW caption.

DAYTON, OHIO CHAPTER

A confidential source furnished information on June 20, 1972, July 6, 1972, August 9, 1972, and September 18, 1972, that Gary James Staiger, the Regional Coordinator for the VVAW for Ohio and Indiana, maintains an office at 1203 Salem Avenue, Dayton, Ohio, with telephone number 274-3171. The VVAW also maintains a mailing address of Post Office Box 1625, Dayton, Ohio, 45401. Staiger also maintains an office in his residence, [REDACTED] Dayton, Ohio, home telephone number [REDACTED].

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR

The Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) is a national organization composed primarily of veterans of the war in Vietnam. Its national office is located at 25 West 26th Street, New York City, New York. The VVAW has organized and participated in demonstrations against the war in Vietnam during 1970-1972.

Staiger offers military counseling at these locations and is the only definite member, according to source. He is also the only officer in the Dayton Chapter of the VVAW. Staiger claims to have approximately 175 persons on the mailing list of the VVAW in Ohio and Indiana. [REDACTED]

The source has further pointed out that numerous attempts to contact or to get a response from Staiger and/or the office of the VVAW, had been expended before a response was received. The source expressed the opinion that the VVAW at Dayton, Ohio, was not a functioning organization and exists only in the person of Gary Staiger. The VVAW in Dayton is synonymous with Staiger and the only activities which take place are those in which Staiger desires to participate and/or organize.

The source noted that for much of the summer of 1972 there was no activity in the Dayton, Ohio area.

The source has furnished information that the VVAW had been a sponsor of anti-war demonstrations at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base on Saturdays since the first part of January, 1972. Staiger has also been identified on several occasions in newspapers in Dayton, Ohio, as a leader and participant in anti-war demonstrations in the Dayton area during 1972. The source has noted that Staiger has emphasized that the demonstrations should be maintained on a peaceful basis.

The July 5, 1972, issue of the "Journal Herald," a Dayton, Ohio daily morning newspaper of general circulation, contained an article, captioned, "Hanoi Determined Anti-Vet Says." This article identified Staiger as the Ohio-Indiana Regional Coordinator of the VVAW, who was part of a VVAW delegation which recently travelled to Paris, France from the United States to talk with North Vietnamese and the National Liberation Front near Paris regarding peace possibilities. He was quoted as being impressed with their determination. He was also quoted as saying, "We're going to intensify very much. I'm convinced now more than ever before of the wrongness of our Government's policy. We will intensify as a result of the knowledge that we have to stop it, and Nixon isn't listening."

The August 18, 1972, issue of the "Dayton Daily News," a Dayton, Ohio daily afternoon newspaper of general circulation, contained an article captioned, "Viet Vets 'Last Patrol' Bound For Convention." This article identified Staiger as the Regional Coordinator for the VVAW and quoted him regarding the "last patrol," a group sponsored by the VVAW going to Miami Beach, Florida, to demonstrate at the National Convention of the Republican Party. This article indicated they were leaving on the night of August 17, 1972, and Staiger indicated he hoped there would be a least 100 car loads from the Midwest to go in this "patrol."

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR

On September 10, 1967, the Daily Worker, then the name of the official newspaper of the Communist Party, U.S.A. (CPUSA), provided the first published information on a new antiwar organization, the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW), whose location was given as 17 East 17th Street, New York City.

VVAW was formed earlier in 1967: at an April 15 peace parade in New York City, a small group marching with Veterans for Peace (VFP) carried a banner on which was painted "Vietnam Veterans Against the War."

Six weeks later following a Memorial Day Peace Action in Washington, D.C., sponsored by VFP [7127 South Chicago Avenue, Chicago] and an Ad Hoc Veterans Committee [5 Beekman Street, Room 1033, New York City], a meeting was held at Washington's Willard Hotel at which the concept of a VVAW organization began to take shape.

Publicity for the Memorial Day action and the meeting was obtained by means of a full-page advertisement in the New York Times of 5/22/67 which was credited to the Ad Hoc Veterans Committee for Memorial Day Peace Action, with an Arthur Knight named as secretary.

NOTE: On 8/30/65, Arthur Knight was identified as a member of CPUSA and as press director of the Manhattan County Committee of the Communist Party in the '50's in sworn testimony by Ethel Newton, a former member of CPUSA who rejoined the Party to act as a source for the FBI. In 1966, Knight, who was an employee of the Communist bookstore, the Jefferson Bookstore, on East 16th Street, N.Y.C., was observed at the CPUSA National Convention.

The involvement of Communist Arthur Knight in the formation of VVAW was not the only contribution to the new organization by America's red enemies. Through correspondence produced as exhibits before the House Internal Security Committee (HISC) on 4/15/70 by FBI undercover operator Louis Salzberg [published by HISC as a part of its material on the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (New Move)], it is possible to unravel something of the Communist intrigue that resulted in the establishment of VVAW.

C. P. MEMBER

On May 8, 1967, Corliss X. Mont, identified as a member of CPUSA in sworn testimony before a Senate Committee in August, 1951, wrote to a Bernard X. Korten stating that he would contribute $1,000 [the first of several large payments to be made during the next year] toward the cost of the New York Times advertisement calling for the Memorial Day action.

The Lamont letter concluded, "We [Helen and Corliss] agree with you and Kolins that the Vets can be very important in stopping Johnson's war of aggression in Vietnam."

The involvement of Bernard Koten takes on considerable significance when his record is examined:

On May 2, 1956, Bernard L. Koten, accompanied by his attorney, Joseph Forer, appeared under subpoena before the Senate Internal Security Sub-Committee.

C. P. MEMBER

NOTE: Joseph Forer of the Washington, D.C. law firm of Forer and Rein, is a member of the National Lawyers Guild (NLG) and is a frequent defender of CPUSA members and caucuses. His law partner, David Rein, was identified as a member of CPUSA in December, 1955, by Herbert Fuchs in sworn Congressional testimony. In 1966-67, David Rein was "president pro tem" of the VFP Washington, D.C. organization.

At the Koten hearing before the Senate Sub-Committee, it was established that he had lived and traveled extensively in the Soviet Union from 1932 to 1938; and that he had attended, as both a student and teacher, the Moscow State Pedagogical Linguistic Institute.

It was also established at this hearing that on his return to the U.S., Koten had become the sole employee of the American-Russian Institute and subsequently of its successor, the Library of Intercultural Studies. In these posts he described himself as a "researcher" and as the "research director."

Koten refused to answer questions regarding membership in CPUSA, Party membership in Russia, or Party membership during the three years that he served with the U.S. Army in World War II.

During the Senate hearing, a classified FBI report was entered into the record. It read:

"Bernard Koten, research director of American-Russian Institute, is friend and contact of William Hermann Eckart Johnson and his wife, Annette E. Johnson, who are employed at present on the secret Russian desk of the War Department, Washington, D.C. and who are suspected of giving out info. to the NKVD."

Also during the hearing, the Committee Counsel said that the American-Russian Institute was a recruiting agency for Soviet intelligence. Koten was the Institute's sole employee.

NOTE: That a classified FBI report on Koten was published was in itself ironical. The report was one stolen by Judith Coplon, a Justice Department clerk, which was seized at the time of her arrest while she was passing it with other papers to a Soviet intelligence agent, Valentin Cubitchev, who was tried with her. The report was an exhibit in the 1950 trial of Judith Coplon, who was convicted of passing classified U.S. documents to the Russians. On appeal the conviction was overturned on a technicality.

[Miss Coplon's defense team included Leonard Boudin and Albert H. Socolov, whom she married. Socolov has a law office at 299 Broadway, N.Y.C., and lives in Brooklyn with his wife].

In 1963, Koten was back in the Soviet Union as a visitor, leading a group of tourists organized by the Afton Agency. In Kiev he suddenly dropped out of sight to the consternation of the now leaderless tourists. However he reappeared with Intourist, the Russian tourist organization, offering the explanation that he had been arrested for a homosexual offense involving a Soviet citizen.

In 1967, when he became involved with the VFP organization, Koten was living at 1370 St. Nicholas Avenue, #22R, New York, N.Y., and was working in the Russian Collection of the New York University General Library.

C. P. MEMBER

The Wolins mentioned in the LeRoi letter is yet another member of CPUSA. LeRoi Wolins of Chicago, Illinois, was identified by the late J. Edgar Hoover as a CPUSA member in testimony on the FBI appropriation for 1968. In 1970, HISC was told that Wolins was the organizer, financial angel and mastermind of a national organization, Veterans for Peace in Vietnam (VFP), based in Chicago.

NOTE: Wolins' record of involvement with CPUSA dates back to the '40's. He had been secretary of the Chicago chapter of the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, an organization dating back to 1943 which was found to be a "Communist front" within the meaning of the Internal Security Act of 1950.

On July 5, 1967, Ron Wolin, ~~New York~~ ^{member - Veterans for Peace} organizer for VFP, sent a letter reporting on his activities to LeRoi Wolins in which he wrote:

"Probably most significant is the fact that our action [the New York Times advertisement and its subsequent Memorial Day demonstration] provided the first national platform for Vietnam veterans and gave impetus to the organization of at least two Vietnam vet's groups, Vietnam Veterans Against the War in New York and United Vets for Peace and Freedom in Phila-

NOTE: Ron Wolin is a self-proclaimed believer in the communist theories of Leon Trotsky and is an identified member of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) (HISC Annual Report, 1971). He has associated himself with many of the SWP's GI organizing projects. Radical sources indicate that in 1967 Wolin kept his political views quiet to enable a working relationship to develop with members of CPUSA.

On June 30, 1967, a check for $488.52 was sent to Corliss Lamont by the VFP organization with a covering letter which said:

"The contributions on the ad came to something under 50% of its cost. Pursuant to our commitment, we're accordingly returning to you herewith our check for $488.52. Thanks again for your help in making the ad possible. Its effectiveness in turn helped ensure the success of the Memorial Day action in Washington."

In its formative months, VVAW was closely associated, if not practically identical, with Veterans for Peace in Vietnam (VFP) which had been formed a year earlier [January 1966] in Chicago by LeRoi Wolins. VFP operated, and still does, from 431 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, and from P.O. Box 4598, Chicago, Illinois 60630 (312/922-0065).

According to the National Guardian of 3/26/66, one purpose of the VFP was "to neutralize veterans organizations such as the Marine Corps League, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and other veterans and right-wing groups."

During 1967, VFP participated in the major antiwar action at the Pentagon and set up some thirty chapters in various parts of the country, often with the assistance of identified members of CPUSA. [For example, David Rein in Washington, D.C.; ~~Louis Ortiz~~ and ~~Leo Jackson~~ in Pittsburgh, ^{Pittsburgh, PA} Pennsylvania; and Arthur Knight, New York City.]

VFP's members took an active role with the most militant antiwar groups such as the Chicago Peace Council, the New York Fifth Avenue Peace Parade Committee, and later, the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

NOTE: While VFP was expanding and the involvement of CPUSA members a matter of public record, Senator George McGovern wrote the organization an "open letter" which he concluded in the following words: "I wish you well in your efforts to bring about an honorable and early end to the war."

Senator McGovern's support for antiwar veterans groups continued over the years. In May 1971, he entered into the Congressional Record [E4465 - 5/17/71] the content of an "ad hoc" hearing that he conducted on April 23 which provided a number of VVAW members with the opportunity to make charges which the Senator characterized as "tragedies" and "atrocities," "exactly what the Nazi forces did in occupied territory in Europe during World War II."

Introducing the material, Senator McGovern said, "The testimony ... demonstrates that the Vietnam Veterans Against the War probably represent the majority view of those who have served in combat."

And it is interesting to note that at the hearing conducted by Senator McGovern, the first "witness" was Scott Camil who related how his unit tortured and killed prisoners, raped women, and mutilated corpses.

Camil is now under indictment as a leader of a conspiracy to disrupt the Republican Convention in Miami Beach by organizing "fire teams" to attack with automatic weapons, fire and incendiary devices police stations, police cars, and stores in Miami Beach on various dates between August 21 and 24, 1972.

In addition to these federal charges brought in Tallahassee, Florida, Camil faces state narcotics charges as well as kidnapping charges.

MEMBER OF SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

Among the links between the Communists of the VFP organization and the VVAW of 1967 and the present time is VVAW chairman, Jan Barry Crumb. In September 1967, Crumb was listed as "Viet Vets editor" of Veterans Stars and Stripes for Peace, the VFP publication. In the 8/21/67 issue of The Militant, the official newspaper of the SWP, he was identified as VVAW chairman. Three years later (11/24/70), the CPUSA's Daily World reported Crumb as VVAW president, a role that he apparently continues to play.

Jan Barry Crumb, dob 1/26/43, of 208 Dean Street, Brooklyn, New York, works as a researcher for CBS News in New York City (212/765-4321, X-6008). Using the name "Jan Barry," he has contributed book reviews to various newspapers, including the Washington Post.

An SP 4 in the U.S. Army, Crumb claims to have been in Vietnam with the 10th Aviation Company from December 1961 to October 1963. In July 1964, he was appointed to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, and resigned in November of that same year.

Crumb, whose family comes from Interlaken, New York, was a participant in the VVAW Winter Soldier project; using the name Jan Barry, he was an editor and contributor to Winning Hearts and Minds, a paperback book of "war poems by Vietnam veterans" which is published by 1st Casualty Press, 208 Dean Street, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11217 [Crumb's residence]. [In listing himself as a contributor to Winning Hearts and Minds, Crumb marked himself as "Jan Barry" of Interlaken, N.Y.]

NOTE: Others involved with Jan Crumb in the earliest days of VVAW were Francis R. Rocks, secretary/treasurer; Mark Donnelly and David Brown.

MARK E. DONNELLY

During the years 1967 through 1970, little was heard of VVAW. But over the Labor Day weekend of 1970, the group sponsored "Operation RAW - Rapid American Withdrawal" with the purpose of protesting the war in Southeast Asia, demanding an increase in Veterans Administration funds, and calling for a war crimes investigation.

Operation RAW [I.D., 9/11/70, refers] involved an 80-mile trek from Morristown, N.J. to Valley Forge, Penna. by about 84 veterans. During the march, VVAW performed a number of guerrilla theater actions. On September 7, 1970, at Valley Forge's Grand Parade Ground, a rally of about 1,000 people heard speeches from Representative Allard K. Lowenstein, Jane Fonda, Mark Lane, Donald Sutherland, Rev. James Bevel and VVAW executive secretary Al Hubbard.

MEMBER OF SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

According to the New York Times [9/5/70], Hubbard was "a 32-year old former Air Force pilot who wore three rows of military decorations on his sweat-darkened fatigues."

b7c

APPROX 1931

From September 1970 until April 22, 1971, Al Hubbard, with his Afro hair style and his many decorations, thrived in the limelight of being an ex-captain, a Negro militant, and a leader in the antiwar movement.

MEMBER OF SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

After eight months of watching Hubbard pose in these various roles, a belated investigation by the media established that the eloquent "captain" was actually a former staff sergeant with no record of any service in Vietnam, and that his "wounds" resulting in a 60% disability allowance were probably related to a 1961 back injury suffered during a soccer game.

NOTE: William Overend, a CBS newsman, published the Hubbard saga in the conservative National Review [the story was printed in the Congressional Record (S7929 - 6/2/71)]. It concluded with a statement by Overend:

"As a liberal, it had occurred to me that raising questions about Al Hubbard might hurt the antiwar movement, but as a journalist it didn't seem that should be a factor. I was wrong. No one would touch the story. Not David Sanford of the New Republic; not any other editor of any liberal publication I contacted."

But despite this story, Hubbard has continued to be accepted by VVAW and the antiwar movement as a leader.

In January, 1971, VVAW was ready to move fully into a leadership role in the antiwar movement, choosing as its vehicle the implementation of the demand made during Operation RAW for a war crimes investigation.

The Winter Soldier Investigation, organized from 967 Emerson Street, Detroit, was convened in a Howard Johnson motel in midtown Detroit, January 31 - February 2. Some 100 Vietnam veterans claimed to have seen and/or taken part in war crimes and atrocities.

The verbatim transcript ran to almost 1,000 pages; a video-taping was made of the "investigation;" and in 1972 Beacon Press, under the auspices of the Unitarian Universalist Association, published an edited transcript as a paperback book. [A list of participants in Winter Soldier is available].

On April 6 and 7, 1971, Senator Mark Hatfield had the entire Winter Soldier transcript read into the Congressional Record.

NOTE: The term Winter Soldier was used by VVAW to indicate its belief that they are "true patriots," and they quote Tom Paine, "The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will in this crisis shrink from the service of his country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman."

The cost of Winter Soldier has been estimated in the range of $50,000. Major contributors included the actress Jane Fonda and attorney/author Mark Lane. Radical sources indicate that other contributions came from Dick Gregory, Phil Ochs, Alison Montgomery, Barbara Dane, Donald Sutherland, and the United States Servicemen's Fund (USSF).

NOTE: From May 1969 until the present, the USSF has been deeply involved in supporting radical antiwar causes, and especially the GI coffeehouse movement and GI underground newspapers. During the period May 1969 to November 1970, the USSF spent over $125,667 on these projects, and had an income of $166,714.

Major contributors to the USSF included the Fund for Tomorrow, Inc. (Peter and Cora Weiss), the Stern Family Fund, Max Relevsky, Elizabeth and Paul Wilens, and Anne Peretz.

A detailed account of the USSF will be found in October 1971 HISC hearings, Investigation of Attempts to Subvert the U.S. Armed Services.

During the weeks following Winter Soldier, VVAW staged similar histrionics in New Jersey, Philadelphia, Connecticut, St. Louis, Atlanta, Minnesota, Boston and Florida; and through coverage by the National Educational Television (NET) on 4/19/71 received nation-wide publicity.

Using the publicity generated by Winter Soldier, VVAW organized Dewey Canyon III, "a limited incursion of Washington, D.C.," April 19-24, 1971. The purpose of Dewey Canyon III was to "call upon the Congress and Supreme Court to exercise their defined Constitutional responsibilities to override Nixon's blood lust, and act to stop all 'business as usual,' until the government recognizes and responds positively to our demands."

Dewey Canyon III was an unconventional prelude to the inevitable annual spring antiwar protest which gained massive media coverage. An estimated one thousand VVAW members and supporters gathered in Washington, set up an illegal encampment on the Mall, marched, demonstrated, performed guerrilla theater, met with Senators and Congressmen, threw away their medals in "a final act of contempt for the way the executive branch is forcing us to wage war," and won an accolade from Senator George McGovern who described the anti-American propaganda circus as "the most effective protest to date..."

NOTE: The Mall encampment was the subject of an injunction granted by the U.S. Supreme Court, sought by the Justice Department and contested on behalf of VVAW by former U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark.

Despite the fact that the injunction was granted by the Chief Justice and confirmed by the full Court, VVAW ignored it. No attempt to enforce it was made by the Justice Department, and the injunction was dissolved at the Government's own request.

Dewey Canyon III was an expensive project for VVAW: tents were rented, rations supplied, and transportation provided. Logistical support was granted by the Medical Committee for Human Rights (MCHR), People's Coalition for Peace and Justice (PCPJ), and the Rennie Davis Hayday apparat.

Larry Canada, a wealthy friend of Davis from Indiana, provided much of the food. Financial supporters of Dewey Canyon III [at $5,000 each] included Edgar Branfman, president of Seagram's Distillers; Philip J. Levin, president of Madison Square Garden; and a New York City banker, Abraham Feinberg.

NY
MASS
In addition to seeing the Supreme Court defied on its very steps, Dewey Canyon III saw the emergence of a VVAW national coordinator, John F. Kerry, as a spokesman. Kerry became VVAW's star speaker, but by the end of summer he had acquired sufficient media coverage and prominence to return to conventional politics. He is now campaigning in Boston for a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.
MEMBER OF SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

Since 1971, VVAW has taken a leadership role in the Communist dominated segments of the U.S. antiwar movement. According to an article in the Guardian, 5/24/72, by Abe Weisburd,

"VVAW... is a dedicated anti-imperialist, anti-racist organization.... It is a permanent veterans organization which has as one of its stated objectives to charge 'the domestic social, political and economic institutions that have caused and permitted the continuance of the war.' Among its other stated objectives are: to struggle against racism; to end U.S. illegal operations in Latin America, Africa, China, Europe, Thailand, as well as Indochina; to affirm the principles of Nuremberg relative to American war crimes in Indochina; to achieve complete freedom for all deserters, antiwar dissenters, and political prisoners; and for jobs, proper education and health care for veterans."

The article concludes:

"VVAW with its positive program for jobs and against racism, and its ability to relate to the veteran, is one of the most important anti-imperialist organizations on the U.S. scene. It has natural allies in the working class and the oppressed nationalities in the U.S. Effecting greater unity among these forces is a blow against U.S. imperialism."

member
NOTE: Abe Weisburd, the writer of this eulogy, is a long-time supporter of CPUSA causes and has served on the administrative committee of New York's Fifth Avenue Peace Parade Committee as the representative of Trade Unionists for Peace, as described by the late CPUSA newspaper, the Communist Party.

During the past fifteen months, VVAW has sought publicity by demonstrations in a number of U.S. cities. In the last week of December, 1971, VVAW "occupied" the Statue of Liberty in New York, the Betsy Ross House in Philadelphia, the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, a military hospital in California, and the South Vietnamese consulate in San Francisco in actions coordinated from New York by Al Hubbard which were designed to "put the issue of the war back on the front page."

In the spring of 1972, antiwar actions by VVAW took a leadership role in attempting to block access to federal buildings and military installations; and VVAW was well represented in the abortive attempt to blockade the Pentagon on May 22.

Both at home and in foreign countries, VVAW members work to bring discredit on the U.S. In July 1972, VVAW members and leaders including Jean-Pierre Wendell, Leland Lubinsky, Fred Warner, Alan Morris and Albert Morgen visited Cuba. While in Havana, according to a Radio Havana Spanish language broadcast on July 5, they donated blood to the North Vietnamese.

After a visit to Hanoi, VVAW staffer Joe Urco told a reporter for CPUSA's Daily World that his North Vietnamese hosts were distributing leaflets to GI's telling them that "if they do not attack the villages and refuse to go on combat operations, their base camps will not be harmed."

MEMBER OF SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

In February 1972, the Daily World reported a speech by Al Hubbard before a rally at the World Assembly for Peace in Paris which set a new trend in antiwar activity in the U.S. Hubbard related how the U.S. government "is escalating the aggression in Indochina instead of winding it down" to the thousand-odd assembly delegates; and then proceeded to give details of classified U.S. ship and aircraft movements.

Hubbard's example of giving classified military information to the Democratic Republic of Vietnam [North Vietnam] was quickly followed by VVAW generally. VVAW took credit [in the Daily World, of course] for releasing "a 24-page document with information revealing air force, navy, and troop maneuvers. The material had been gathered from active-duty GI's throughout the country and in Vietnam." [It was released via the ad Hoc Military Build-up Committee, a U.S. group in direct contact with the DRV. The same Daily World article that contained this information also contained a complaint from Detroit VVAW leader Bill Marshall that as far as the FBI is concerned, "we're spies, infiltrators and saboteurs."

MEMBER OF SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

Spies they have been and sabotage was charged four months later. Six VVAW national leaders, Scott Carril, William J. Patterson, Peter P. Mahoney, Donald P. Perdue, John W. Kniffin and Alton C. Foss, were indicted by a federal grand jury for conspiracy to disrupt the Republican Convention by violence.

VVAW's national headquarters is at 25 West 26th Street, New York, N.Y. 10010 (212/725-5680). It publishes its own newspaper at irregular intervals which is called "The 1st Casualty."

VVAW claims a national membership of 25,000 including 2,500 active-duty GI's in Vietnam and an active membership of 8,000. However investigative sources credit VVAW with less than 1,000 active members. It is noted that in August 1972, VVAW could not muster more than 300 members nationally for its project Operation Lost Patrol which has been heralded by VVAW publicists as "a massive caravan of 25,000 cars and 100,000 persons traveling to Miami to protest the Republican Convention."

Internal VVAW documents show that the organization works closely with such organizations as La Raza Unida, the Black Panther Party, National Welfare Rights Organization, United Farmworkers Organizing Committee, Angela Davis Defense Committee, Billy Dean Smith Defense Committee, National Lawyers Guild, Miami Convention Coalition and the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice - all organizations in which the Communist Party, U.S.A. takes a sympathetic interest and in several instances dominates.

In April 1972, VVAW's National Steering Committee met for its quarterly convention in Houston, Texas. Stated an internal document, it decided "to secure and build our community base through continuing agitation," and also to decentralize, placing control of the organization with six national coordinators: Jack Bronaugh, E.B. DeRosario, Peter Mahoney, Jack McKloskey, Michael McCain and Barry Womo.

According to a VVAW report, Al Hubbard and Joe Urgo did not stand for re-election, saying that they wanted a rest from their responsibilities.

The six national coordinators are assisted by 26 regional coordinators who in turn have a number of state and local coordinators to help them. [Internal VVAW documents listing these coordinators are available].

The Houston conference listed new objectives - or rather rewrote the old ones in still more demagogic terms. They stated:

"The time will come when all our strength and energy will be directed against those conditions here in our land which sent us to murder our brothers and sisters in Indochina."

This rhetoric preceded an urgent appeal for funds:

"In this most critical period of our history, it becomes more important than ever to stop the insane policies of Nixon and his administration. Struggle and sacrifice are called for to end the domination of so much of the world by Charles and his business interests."

Representatives of only a fraction of those who have served in Southeast Asia, VVAW draws its support from among the deviants (there is a considerable homosexual element in VVAW, actively organized by special appeals in the underground press for "gays" to join the organization), the maladjusted, and those who either consciously accept Marxist doctrines or who are communist dupes.

And then, of course, there are the cranks. One VVAW document evaluated advocates thusly:

"Simplifying your life, trying new ways of living which are counter to the present system. It is an attempt or experiment to live under $1700 a year. It means setting up alternatives, sharing food, jobs, owning little or no property ... going without ... Learning to share, to love and to create and to be free in attempt to alter a society based on fear, hate, and violence."

Whatever their motivation, VVAW members have demonstrated over the past five years their ability to follow the dictates of international communism, and to march in lock step with our enemies in Vietnam and the communist world.

After their attempts to dislocate the Republican Convention and a spell of rest and relaxation, VVAW activists will gather in San Jose, California, at the ranch home of David Harris, a convicted draft-evader and ex-husband of folk-singing antiwar activist Joan Baez, from October 4 through 7 for their national convention.

There will be strict security. Delegates must register at least two weeks in advance, and they will be subjected to a number of security checks.

The conference will determine the course that VVAW will take for the next twelve months. Plans will be discussed for pre-election projects to oppose President Nixon's campaign, and for an "action" at the Presidential Inaugural in January. Various legal defense committees [the Tallahassee Six and the Camp McCord Three] will be instituted or re-invigorated. There will be some publicity, and the usual sympathetic coverage by the mass media.

One aspect of the VVAW 1972 national convention will not receive any publicity: that aspect is the extent to which the Communist Party, U.S.A. dominates the organization.

Since its inception, VVAW has cashed in on the average citizen's natural concern and sympathy for servicemen returned from war. If it becomes general knowledge that VVAW is a part of the communist conspiracy, it will lose its value to the communists here and in Hanoi. With its malcontents and advocates of violence, supported by wealthy credulous liberals, directed by this country's red enemies, VVAW poses a threat which can be ignored only to our peril.

On July 29, 1970, Vietnam Veterans Against the War was incorporated in the State of New York. The directors of VVAW were named as Jan Crumb, 603 Comstock Avenue, Syracuse, New York; Scott Moore, 206 West 99th Street, New York, N.Y.; Al Hubbard, 160-11 - 129th Avenue, Jamaica, Queens, N.Y.; and Carl Walker, 530 Riverside Drive, New York, N.Y.

MEMBER OF SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

Those who signed the certificate of incorporation were Al Hubbard, Anthony Velez, Joseph P. Urgo, Robert McLane and Craig Scott Moore.

The purposes of the corporation, as stated on the certificate, included the following:

- To contribute toward ending the War in Vietnam and Southeast Asia by developing the abilities of the members to collect and disseminate information to the public; to encourage all responsible efforts not in violation of 50 U.S.C. Ch. 15, 22, 23, to effect peace in Southeast Asia by the use of the knowledge and experience of the membership.
- To aid and assist veterans.
- To participate actively in activities for veterans' rights.

The certificate further states that "the territory in which the operations of said Corporation are to be principally conducted are the Continental United States, territories and possessions of the United States."

In March 1972, VVAW was incorporated in the State of Missouri by Charles Antoni, Richard Bancert and Peter Pfeffer.

VIETNAM VETERANS AGAINST THE WAR (VVAW)
INTERNAL SECURITY - REVOLUTIONARY ACTIVITIES

The VVAW was founded in the Spring of 1967 by six young Vietnam veterans in New York City. At the beginning of 1968, with 600 members, VVAW opened a national office, founded the first GI newspaper, "Vietnam GI," and sent close to 500 veterans into the McCarthy campaign to beat down the red baiters. After getting gassed at the Democratic Convention in Chicago and caught in the general "down" of the peace movement, VVAW was nearly inactive until the moratoriums in the Fall of 1969. Members of VVAW led student strikes on major campuses across the country and battled Veterans Administration Hospital authorities over threats to throw amputee Vietnam veterans out for signing anti-war petitions. A present membership of the VVAW, nationally, consists of 8,500 members.

I. LOCATION

Colorado Regional Chapter:

First source on January 3, 1972 advised that VVAW meetings are being held Wednesday nights at their office at 1460 Pennsylvania, Denver, Colorado. Source two advised on February 17, 1972, that the office of VVAW moved to 847 East Colfax Avenue, Denver, Colorado, on or about February 1, 1972.

Second source advised on July 27, 1972, August 8, 1972 and August 29, 1972 that no meetings of VVAW were held during the weeks on which those dates fell; however, a gathering of VVAW members did occur on August 23, 1972 for the purpose of purging records at VVAW headquarters. [REDACTED] like

On May 10, 1972, a Special Agent of the FBI determined that while no chapter as such appears to exist at the University of Colorado (CU), Boulder, Colorado, VVAW has use of space in Room 183-A in the University Memorial Center and VVAW coordinators there are Griffiths S. VVAW Greeley, Colorado:

On July 17, 1972, [REDACTED] University of Northern Colorado (UNC), Greeley, Colorado, advised that the VVAW is presently dormant on campus and to his knowledge the chapter does not plan any activity on campus. [REDACTED] stated that summer sessions have only a small number of students attending, so it is extremely hard for any organization to organize any demonstrations or marches. [REDACTED] further stated that the chapter even during the regular school term just could not gain many followers because of the President's new Vietnam policy.

According to the January 11, 1972 issue of the "Collegian," the official campus newspaper at the University of Colorado (CSU), Ft. Collins, Colorado, the VVAW had acquired a large nine bedroom house at 215 East Oak, Ft. Collins, Colorado, with five rooms still available for rent at less than $40 per month.

Source four has advised that the VVAW at CSU has been inactive during the Summer of 1972, but is expected to re-organize in September when a new school year begins.

II. LEADERSHIP

Colorado Regional Chapter:

Gary Mundt, age 28, was Regional Coordinator for VVAW for Colorado, Wyoming and Utah as of December 29, 1972, according to an article which appeared in the "Rocky Mountain News," a daily Denver, Colorado, newspaper, for that date. The "Clarion," an official campus newspaper for the University of Denver (DU), Denver, Colorado, in its January, 1972 issue indicated that David L. Rosen listed himself as VVAW State Coordinator in an open letter to the "Clarion."

Source three on April 18, 1972, advised

On June 9, 1972, source five advised that Rosen is currently the Colorado Coordinator of VVAW and Wolfe is Editor of the VVAW paper being printed in Denver called "Hoa Binh."

On June 27, 1972, source three advised

First source on July 14, 1972 learned that Gary Mundt had been ousted from the post of Regional Coordinator and that Brian Adams had taken over. The reason given for Mundt's removal was because of his strong stand with the Democratic Party. He is a Colorado delegate to the Democratic National Convention in Miami, Florida.

IV. FINANCES

Colorado Regional Chapter:

Source one on January 10, 1972 reported that the VVAW in Denver is having problems with payment of rent on their office. On February 22, 1972, third source advised that approximately 13 families in the Denver area are known to be supporters of Denver VVAW, Inc. According to first source on March 8, 1972 a free concert was given by a singer named Country Joe McDonald at the Unitarian Church, 14th and Lafayette Streets, Denver, on March 5, 1972. The singer stated he was giving the concert as part of his protest against the Vietnam War and in support of the Vietnam veterans. It was announced at the concert that the singer had donated quite a large sum of money to the VVAW.

On August 10, 1972, second source advised that the VVAW collected $18 at the candlelight march and rally held in Denver on August 6, 1972.

This source also advised on that date that there was to be a fund raising concert, August 10 and 11, 1972 at the Denver Free University which would be sponsored by the VVAW. Funds from it are to go to the Tallahassee, Florida Defense Fund. The Joan Baez group called "Rose Redwoods and the Zin Abesta Boogy Band" will perform. On August 12, 1972, the group will be at the DU Student Center Lounge and donations from that performance will go into the treasury of the VVAW in Denver. u

On August 29, 1972, second source advised that twenty percent of the receipts from the Joan Baez concert held at Red Rocks Amphitheater went to VVAW coffers. However, second source learned on September 14, 1972 that the money Baez donated from the concert went to the national office of the VVAW instead of the local chapter. Rumor had it that she donated $4,000 and kept $20,000 and that VVAW had complained. It is possible that she gave another $10,000. u u u

PUBLICATION

Colorado Regional Chapter:

Source one advised on April 18 and May 18, 1972, that a newspaper captioned "Hoa Binh," is being published by the VVAW regional office, 847 East Colfax Avenue, Denver, Colorado, and that issue appeared in March and May, 1972.

ACTIVITIES AND TIES WITH OTHER GROUPS

VVAW Ft. Collins, Colorado:

According to the "Collegian," supra, in its January 26, 1972 issue, a representative of VVAW pointed out in a letter to the editor that the VVAW in Ft. Collins, Colorado, sent ten members to Washington, D. C. to speak to senators and representatives of Colorado concerning the Vietnam War. That chapter has also talked to voters, assisted in voter registration, has engaged in drug rehabilitation work, free tutoring at CSU and counseling for returned veterans. u

The February 10, 1972 issue of the "Denver Post," supra, carried an article reporting that the VVAW at CSU staged a guerrilla theater skit in front of the CSU Student Center building on February 9, 1972 wherein they pretended to

Colorado Regional Chapter:

Source seven on November 17, 1971 advised that Brian Adams, Regional Coordinator of VVAW for Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, was present at the VVAW Steering Committee conference held in Kansas City, Missouri, November 12 - 14, 1971, which was attended by regional coordinators and delegates from throughout the United States. No information was developed indicating that Adams assumed a leadership role at the conference.

Source eight on November 19, 1971 advised that during a demonstration outside the stadium at the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colorado, on November 22, 1971, in which members of VVAW participated with other groups (total of 15 to 20 individuals) to protest the Vietnam War while Air Force Academy cadets were present for a football game, a low-flying plane with two men in it released leaflets in the vicinity of the stadium.

According to the "Boulder Daily Camera," a daily Boulder, Colorado newspaper, in a article in its November 21, 1971 issue, the pilot and passenger in the aircraft were subsequently cited under an ordinance prohibiting the throwing of advertisements on the streets and public ways. The pilot was also charged with flying too low.

Special Agents of the FBI on December 17, 1971 observed Gary Mundt, VVAW, and approximately six others who were dressed as though connected with the VVAW were observed to march in a demonstration sponsored by a Black youth group called Au Par Youth Center on December 17, 1971. Approximately 90 individuals were involved. At the rally following the march a comment was made that the bullhorn used by speakers had been provided by the VVAW.

According to the December 22, 1971 issue of the "Rocky Mountain News," supra, trials for the 83 individuals connected with VVAW who were arrested for participating illegally in the Veterans Day parade October 23, 1972 were still pending, and in addition to charges of Blocking a Roadway and Failing to Obey a Lawful Police Order all were charged on December 21, 1971 with Parading without a Permit. The article indicated that the battery of 12 defense attorneys were mostly volunteers from the National Lawyers Guild.

National Lawyers Guild is a communist front organization of lawyers and law students dedicated to Communist Party, USA, and New Left ideals for radical change of the social, economic and judicial systems in the United States.

The February 19, 1972 issue of the "Rocky Mountain News" reported in an article that the judge of the Denver County Court had offered the arrestees deferred prosecution. A VVAW spokesman predicted that most would refuse the offer. The March 21, 1972 issue of the "Denver Post," supra, reported that Richard Christmas, age 26, from Greeley, Colorado, was convicted of some of the charges growing out of the October 23, 1971 arrests, and was fined $100 with the fine suspended for six months on the condition no similar violation would occur within that time. A VVAW spokesman announced that all the defendants, except ten, had decided to accept the judge's offer for deferred prosecution. On March 31, 1972 the "Denver Post" reported that only four of the total of 83 cases remained on file and 30 of them involved defendants who were not VVAW members, but were sympathetic and participated in their protest. The April 29, 1972 issue of the "Denver Post" reported that the three remaining defendants all middle-aged were convicted April 28, 1972 and each was fined $55.

On January 5, 1972, source ten advised that approximately 23 VVAW members from Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, and Texas, participated in a "peace action" in Killeen, Texas, between December 24 and 31, 1971. On December 24, 1971, a group of them went to the front gate at Ft. Hood, Texas, and attempted to give a Black Christmas tree to some military officers. They were turned away and went a short distance from the front gate where they placed the tree in a stand and placed toy rifles under it. On December 26, 1971 there was a caravan that went from Killeen, Texas to the Veterans Administration Hospital in Temple, Texas.

b7D [REDACTED] At the Veterans Administration Hospital they talked with a couple of veterans and then returned to Killeen, Texas.

At approximately 10:30 a.m., December 27, 1971, the group moved onto the property occupied by Ft. Hood. All who went onto the post were taken to the Provost Marshal's Office where they were fingerprinted, photographed and issued letters barring them from the post. Six of them were from Colorado.

Late on the night of December 27, 1971, eleven persons went to Austin, Texas, including three from Colorado. They planned to occupy the LBJ Library [REDACTED] b7D [REDACTED] They all gathered outside the library and occupied its grounds, which are policed by the University of Texas Security Department. They decided to hold a fast and vigil outside the library for four days until December 31, 1971. The demonstration at the library ended at approximately midnight on December 31, 1971 with no incidents.

On December 28, 1971, Special Agents of the FBI observed that during the afternoon of December 28, 1971, a group of 15 VVAW members led by Gary Mundt appeared at the office of U. S. Congressman James D. McKeivitt (Republican), Federal Building, Denver, Colorado. The group expressed their grievances which included the military's drug rehabilitation program, narcotics in general and the Vietnam War. The meeting with McKeivitt lasted about an hour and was peaceful.

First source on January 3, 1972 advised that approximately 25 members of VVAW held a march from their headquarters to the State Capitol Building where a moratorium service was held during the afternoon of December 31, 1971. The service was to mourn all who had died and would die in the Southeast Asian War. Gary Mundt read a short statement. The moratorium service lasted approximately 30 minutes and was without incident.

Second source on January 31, 1972 advised that [redacted] the VVAW were planning to attend the speech of General Maxwell Taylor scheduled for February 1, 1972 at DU. Special Agent of the FBI on February 1, 1972 observed that General Maxwell Taylor spoke at DU, Denver, Colorado, the evening of February 1, 1972. Several individuals were observed passing out leaflets at the entrance to the Field House where the speech was given. During the course of General Taylor's comments, about nine individuals, seven males and two females, rose to their feet one at a time at about five minute intervals raising signs. They remained standing throughout the entire speech and the question and answer period afterwards. All signs pertained to U. S. policy in Southeast Asia. No incidents occurred. b7D

Source ten on February 4, 1972 advised that VVAW chapters in Colorado and other areas are planning to participate in a caravan from Kansas City, Missouri, to Cairo, Illinois, February 10 through 14, 1972, in order to take food and supplies to the Black community.

67D On February 11, 1972, source three advised that [REDACTED] are planning to travel [REDACTED] to Cairo, Illinois.

Source eleven advised February 11 - 17, 1972 that on February 11, 1972, VVAW representatives from Denver, Colorado, arrived in Kansas City, Missouri, to participate in the Cairo caravan. The caravan departed Kansas City, Missouri area, February 12, 1972, loaded with food, clothing and medical supplies. After arrival in Cairo, Illinois, in the afternoon of February 12, 1972, a rally was held at which approximately 80 people were present. The supplies were unloaded and no guns or ammunition were seen. Thereafter, the members of the caravan returned to their representative cities.

During the period February 22 - 26, 1972, sources three, seven and ten, among others reported that a National Steering Committee of VVAW was held in Denver and Boulder, Colorado, February 18 - 20, 1972. Approximately 15 proposals were acted upon which relate to restructuring the organization. Action proposals were tabled and were to be further considered at the April 7 - 11, 1972 National Steering Committee meeting being held in Houston, Texas.

On February 17, 1972, first source advised that a poster posted at Metropolitan State College (MSC), Denver, Colorado, February 16, 1972, indicated that a member of the VVAW along with Al Rosenthal of the Colorado Peace Action Coalition (CPAC), were to speak at the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA)/Socialist Workers Party (SWP) militant forum February 18, 1972 at 8:00 p.m. on the subject "The Air War and the New Escalation in Southeast Asia."

First and second sources, both of whom have furnished reliable information in the past, have advised that CPAC, formerly known as the Colorado Peace Coalition, is an ad hoc umbrella committee formed from several anti-war, anti-draft groups in the Denver, Colorado area, which committee includes representation from the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), Young Socialist Alliance (YSA),

Student Mobilization Committee (SMC), and the Institute/Mountain West (self-proclaimed as a small group dedicated to non-violent revolution). CPAC is largely dominated by Mary Walter and Joe Johnson, both SWP members, and recent plans of the committee have implemented those established by the National Peace Action Coalition (NPAC).

As the youth organization of the SWP, the YSA serves as the main source of recruitment into that organization. The YSA is described in the masthead of its official publication, "The Young Socialist Organizer," as "a multinational revolutionary socialist youth organization."

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (SMC) is controlled by the SWP and its youth affiliate, YSA. SMC initiates and supports public demonstrations against the war in Southeast Asia.

NPAC was founded in 1970 by members of the SWP. Its basic objective is to unite masses of people, including labor unions, GIs, and the Black community in the struggle to end United States intervention in Southeast Asia through orderly and peaceful tactics.

67D Third source advised on February 22, 1972 that at the National Steering Committee meeting held in Denver and Boulder, Colorado, February 18 - 20, 1972, it was decided that the national body of VVAW would not affiliate in any way with the National Peace Action Coalition (NPAC), SWP, SMC, YSA, People's Coalition for Peace and Justice or any other front group.

The People's Coalition for Peace and Justice (PCPJ) has described itself as being headquartered at 1029 Vermont Avenue, N.W., Washington, D. C., and as consisting of over 100 organizations which are using massive civil disobedience to combat racism, poverty, repression and war.

The "Colorado Daily," an independent student newspaper at CU, Boulder, Colorado, in its February 23, 1972 issue stated that a speaker from the Denver VVAW group was scheduled to participate in a SMC "truth-in" protesting the step-up in the war being held at CU, February 23, 1972.

Third source on March 12, 1972 advised that

The Venceremos Brigade (VB) was formed in June, 1969, by a coalition of New Left organizations to encourage American youth to travel to Cuba in defiance of a ban on travel to that country by the United States Department of State. The ostensible purpose of the travel was to assist the Castro regime in the harvesting of sugar cane and other agricultural products and to give young Americans the experience of living in a revolutionary communist country.

On April 3, 1972, first source advised that at a potluck supper held March 30, 1972, by Institute/Mountain West (IMW), 2096 Emerson Street, Denver, Colorado, it was learned that the VVAW will leaflet at Lowry Air Force Base (LAFB) main gates on Friday, March 31, 1972. IMW members are expected to join in the activity.

On April 4, 1972, first source advised that the leafleting planned for March 31, 1972 was postponed until April 3, 1972 at 4:00 p.m. due to poor weather conditions. Source twelve on the same date advised that six male individuals appeared at the gates of LAFB, two at each gate, at approximately 4:05 p.m. on April 13, 1972, and the last ones departed at about 5:45 p.m. They handed out copies of "Hoa Binh," the VVAW, Denver, newspaper.

Special Agents of the FBI on April 15, 1972 observed that approximately 350 participated in the April 15, 1972, march in Denver, Colorado, and approximately 700 were present for the rally which followed. A contingent of about 50 members of VVAW was included in the march. Representation from the Communist Party, SWP, YSA, SMC and IMW was observed. Speakers included SWP Presidential candidate Linda Menness; SWP candidates from Colorado; Herrick Roth, President, Colorado Labor Council; a member of VVAW; and a member of the Colorado House of Representatives. Kathy Shields, Chairman, CPAC, acted as Master of Ceremonies. No incidents occurred.

Kathy Shields announced that a demonstration would be held at the Brown Palace Hotel, Denver, Colorado, April 18, 1972, at 11:00 a.m. during the time that General William C. Westmoreland was to speak.

Special Agents of the FBI on April 18, 1972 observed that the picketing of General William C. Westmoreland's speech at the Brown Palace Hotel, Denver, Colorado, occurred as announced at the April 15, 1972, CPAC rally. The picketing was led by VVAW members, with representatives from SWP and CPAC being present. The demonstration lasted from 11:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and the number of demonstrators varied from 20 to 30. They carried placards and distributed leaflets protesting United States involvement in Southeast Asia.

On April 29, 1972, Special Agents of the FBI observed approximately 1,200 individuals participating in the April 29, 1972 CPAC sponsored march and from 1,500 to 2,000 in attendance at the rally which followed. Leaders of the march were Jim Lauderdale and Jon Hillson, both of SWP. Various contingents participated, including the Chicano contingent; VVAW from Ft. Collins, Greeley, and Denver, Colorado; CU students; Gay contingent; Women United contingent; and SMC. Master of Ceremonies at the rally was Kathy Shields. The march commenced at 1:00 p.m. and the rally at approximately 2:30 p.m. The rally lasted until 3:45 p.m. Speakers included representatives from SWP; YSA; and Asian Student contingent; Crusade for Justice (CFJ); Craig Barnes, unsuccessful candidate for U. S. Congress; Women United contingent; Weld County Welfare Rights organization; Boulder City Council; and VVAW. All speakers demanded that American troops be returned from Vietnam immediately.

Third source on April 25, 1972 stated that in a flier prepared by VVAW on its letterhead, it was announced that on May 4, 1972, VVAW would be helping in a coalition of Denver movement groups to link local actions with the national moratorium. It indicated that there would be a noontime rally at the Air Force Induction Center in downtown Denver and VVAW would be coordinating with GT for actions in the evening. The possibility of smaller groups appearing at Air Force recruiting stations was also mentioned.

Special Agents of the FBI observed that Denver VVAW, assisted by followers of IMW, handed out leaflets at the gates of LAFB from 7:00 a.m. to 8:15 a.m., May 4, 1972. 19 participants were present at the peak of the leafleting. No incidents occurred.

Adherents of the above two groups, plus individuals from CLC, held a silent vigil around the New Custom House, 19th and Stout, Denver, 12:00 noon to 1:10 p.m., on the same date. Approximately 225 people were present. Leaflets were handed out and no incidents occurred.

b7c According to the May 5, 1972 issue of the "Sun," a Colorado Springs, Colorado daily newspaper, and [redacted] Colorado Springs, Colorado Police Department the Colorado Peace Coalition, VVAW and the Jubilee Brotherhood were some of the organizations participating in a "silent vigil" march in front of the Internal Revenue Service in Colorado Springs, Colorado on May 4, 1972. About 30 students, college instructors and citizens participated. The demonstration was part of an all day teach-in at El Paso Community College to commemorate the anniversary of the Kent State shooting two years ago. David Rosen of the Denver VVAW was among those participating.

Special Agents of the FBI on May 9, 1972 and the "Denver Post," supra, on May 10, 1972 reported that an estimated 300 anti-war demonstrators from VVAW, IMW, Clergy and Laity Concerned and other unidentified groups gathered May 9, 1972 near the intersection of Lincoln Street and East 6th Avenue, Denver, Colorado, about 3:00 p.m. to show their disagreement with President Nixon's announcement of a North Vietnamese blockade. According to [REDACTED] VVAW, the CLC and other local anti-war groups. Attempts to block the intersection failed and nine individuals were arrested on various charges, including disturbance, using filthy language and pedestrian walking along roadway. The "Denver Post," supra, in its May 11, 1972 issue and source one on May 15, 1972 reported that on May 10, 1972, approximately 200 persons assembled near MSC at Colfax and Fox Streets at noon. Most of the crowd consisted of MSC students; however, VVAW and IMW people were observed as well. The peace rally was supposed to be controlled by MSC students, but the YSA attempted to take over. VVAW stepped in and directed the crowd toward the State Capitol building, where members of VVAW and YSA spoke. The group split in two; those who wanted to engage in civil disobedience and those who wanted to simply rally against the war activity in Vietnam. The group wishing to engage in civil disobedience marched in the streets in downtown Denver for about a block, at which time the police forced them onto the sidewalk. Approximately five individuals were arrested thereafter for walking in the street.

On May 15, 1972, first source stated that during the general student unrest which followed President Nixon's decision to blockade harbors of North Vietnam, approximately 200 persons assembled near MSC at Colfax and Fox on May 10, 1972. The protest was supposed to be controlled by students, but the YSA wanted to take over. YSA failed in the take over and VVAW then stepped in and directed the crowd toward the Capitol building. In subsequent speeches, a VVAW representative claimed that YSA always wanted to control things and that they were idiots.

On May 13, 1972, first source learned that the VVAW was planning to leaflet at Lowry Air Force Base (LAFB) on that date. A Special Agent of the FBI on May 13, 1972 observed that at approximately 1:30 p.m. on May 13, 1972, Gary Mundt, VVAW, with approximately ten other members, were at Gates 2 and 4 at LAFB. Mundt indicated there were 15 members of VVAW at Lowry at that time.

On May 15, 1972, source twelve advised that approximately 16 people were ~~present~~ at LAFB on Saturday, May 13, 1972, passing out copies of the VVAW newspaper "Hoa Binh" and another VVAW leaflet. They arrived around 11:20 a.m. and the last ones departed about 3:20 p.m. Two members of VVAW and one individual giving IMW as his residence were picked up on base and were given letters of exclusion. u

In connection with Armed Forces Day, May 20, 1972, at Ft. Carson, Colorado, an Open Post was held where several displays were exhibited. Special Agents of the FBI observed that during the early afternoon hours several individuals known to be connected with VVAW and IMW were observed passing out literature, which was in violation of Post regulations. Eight individuals were identified and 12 were escorted off Post by Military Police.

During the afternoon while Colonel William J. Lidsey, Jr. was talking with another Colonel, an individual later identified as John T. O'Connor of Denver, Colorado (VVAW member), approached Colonel Lidsey and from a paper cup threw a blood-like substance on Colonel Lidsey's uniform. O'Connor then stated, "You people are responsible for murder." He was taken into custody, given a letter of exclusion and transported off Post. The "Rocky Mountain News," supra, in its May 27, 1972 issue reported that members from 12 different organizations, including VVAW, CLC, IMW, Rocky Mountain Military Project, and other peace groups, have banded together to form an ad hoc committee called "The Coalition." A spokesman said the group plans to walk behind the Denver Memorial Day parade on May 27, 1972, but will remain on the sidewalks. Participants will be dressed in black and after the march, will attend a memorial service held by CLC. On June 2, 1972, first source stated that the VVAW were permitted to march in the Memorial Day parade on May 27, 1972. They did so without incident. There was a group of persons dressed in black clothes who walked on the sidewalks behind the parade carrying a casket draped with a flag and being led by a single drummer. In this group members of IMW were observed. After the parade they met with the VVAW for a memorial service. Approximately 100 persons participated in the service. Members of VVAW, CLC and IMW were present. VVAW held a barbeque at 1776 Williams Street after the ceremony.

On June 21, 1972, twelve persons from this committee were arrested at the Yosemite entrance to LAFB while Denver police were taking three AWOL servicemen into custody. The three servicemen were demanding an interview with a ten man task force which was at Lowry investigating military justice.

that decisions were made [redacted] to have tighter security in the organization and to march on the Capitol in Washington, D. C. sometime during the first week in November to defeat Nixon. Civil disobedience is expected. [redacted] that the press is playing down the war issue and VVAW wants to bring it up right before the election.

b7D

On August 10, 1972, second source advised that [redacted] a political education meeting was held and [redacted] briefed those present on procedures to use should the FBI question members of the VVAW. He instructed them not to give their name and not to talk. If the FBI persisted, the member was to call the National Lawyers Guild (NLG) and ask for [redacted] on NLG.

b7C

Source fourteen on August 15, 1972 advised that [redacted] that the Denver VVAW was participating in the VVAW caravan traveling to the Miami Republican Convention. Ten members of the Denver group left August 15, 1972 by automobile, along with two carloads of VVAW members who came from the West Coast by way of Mountain Home, Idaho.

Re Indianapolis letter, 5/28/72; Jacksonville airtel, 7/3/72; Bureau Form 0-1 received 8/24/72.

VVAW remains essentially unattached from the situation as reported by referenced Indianapolis letter. At the present there is no identified VVAW organization despite considerable attention being directed on VVAW national efforts which sponsored demonstrations at the recent Republican National Convention. Despite increased use of VVAW label only two persons, [redacted] and [redacted] joined the VVAW caravan despite the fact that the caravan passed across Indiana, and made a stop at Indianapolis.

Based on information received by referenced Jacksonville airtel indications were that National VVAW considers [redacted]

[redacted] Sources who regularly monitor [redacted] activities, however, continue to report information substantiating the profile drawn of [redacted] on Page Two in referenced Indianapolis letter. [redacted] is presently considered inactive and was not noticeable participant in attempting to secure VVAW support during the Republican National Convention demonstrations [redacted]

[redacted] in referenced Indianapolis letter. He has not recently been active even during the advent of the new school year [redacted] VVAW Headquarters listed the Indianapolis coordinator to be unknown [redacted] This individual is actually [redacted]

[redacted] who is not a Vietnam veteran [redacted] and was also profiled in referenced Indianapolis letter. [redacted]

who is also profiled in referenced Indianapolis letter continues to be moderately active in "peace" type activities and has no success in organizing a VVAW chapter. Chapter coordinator for [redacted] was listed as only an address of [redacted]

[redacted] This is the address of [redacted] [redacted] is succinctly profiled in referenced Indianapolis letter, and during interview 7/6/72, advised he had been unsuccessful in his attempts to organize a VVAW chapter [redacted]

In addition [redacted] and [redacted] have been particularly oriented towards developing information regarding VVAW activities during the recent period particularly regarding VVAW demonstrations to be held at the Republican Convention. These sources as well as other sources outlined in referenced Indianapolis letter remain alert for information concerning captioned organization. Should captioned organization form into a viable type group in the Indianapolis Division, the Bureau will be appropriately advised. In the meantime, it is expected the VVAW label as well as Veterans for Peace will continue to be utilized by individuals engaged in protesting the Vietnam war in order to lend an air of responsibility to their acts.

III. SUMMARY OF SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES

On 4/18/72, [REDACTED] advised that a Coalition of New Left Organizations at the University of Maryland, consisting of representatives of SDS, SMC, FPF, YSA, and VVAW, to stage protest actions against the recent American aggression in Southeast Asia. U

[REDACTED] advised on [REDACTED] approximately 250 persons attending a rally on that date as a representative of VVAW, and called for an immediate end to the War in Southeast Asia. U

Information was received from [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] that [REDACTED]

Sources advised these meetings were held to plan the protest actions scheduled for the next couple of days. These sources also advised that JAMES E. MURPHY was observed at numerous anti-war protests at the University of Maryland, College Park, Maryland, between 4/18 and 5/11/72, and that these protests resulted in numerous arrests and extensive damage to school property. The sources also stated that on 4/21/72, MURPHY addressed a rally of approximately 600 persons to protest the American bombing of Southeast Asia, the presence of ROTC on campus, sexism, and racism. They stated that MURPHY also addressed a rally on 5/11/72, and demanded the withdrawal of ROTC from the University of Maryland campus. U

BA [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] admitted his participation in the anti-war demonstrations at University of Maryland and expressed a violent opposition to the War in Southeast Asia. [REDACTED] indicated that he was not opposed to the United States Government and therefore does not adhere to the political philosophies of most anti-war activists. [REDACTED] was not antagonistic toward the interviewing Agents, however, he would not voluntarily furnish any information concerning the anti-war movement.

No request is being made to reinterview [REDACTED] at this time, inasmuch as the interviewing Agents did not feel that he has any source potential. [REDACTED] did indicate that he is strongly opposed to violence in the anti-war movement; therefore, should the situation arise where it is felt that [REDACTED] would become cooperative, a recommendation to interview him will be re-evaluated at that time.

On 9/7/72 [redacted] advised that [redacted]

[redacted] is in the best interest of the Communist Party to keep the issue alive.

[redacted] advised that since the acquittal of ANGELA DAVIS, the local Communist Party has been without "a cause" and the VVAW arrests provided them with a perfect vehicle to carry on the usual Communist Party propaganda. Informant advised [redacted]

[redacted] None of the VVAW members have expressed an interest in joining the Communist Party to date [redacted]

[redacted] according to informant.

In view of the above, Miami is closing captioned case. The activities of the Miami Communist Party in supporting the VVAW will be followed in case captioned "Committee For Defense of the Gainesville Six."
